McArthur, whether we look to its Lageographical advantages—the salubri- field, ty of its atmosphere-its uninterrupted health for a series of years-its railroad facilities-its delightful plains and D. Cattel. graceful native slopes, by which they are connected on the north and west to Lester Taylor. the receding hills, that open to the surrounding country, and on the south to the limpid waters of a romantic stream, with its reservoirs, to the command. Warfil. ing locations for splendid country seats and cottage residences; or whether we Lawder look to the inexhaustible fields of coal, iron, lime, allum, salt, and of building Lewis, stone, with which the neighborhood abounds, or to its present importance and rapid advancement in population, T. Brazee. manufactures, and trade, is evidently destined to become a large and flourishing town.

There is, perhaps, no inland town D. Hardy. of the same size in the State that exhibits a greater degree of prosperity, or that is attracting as much attention Marsh. of capitalists, as McAnhur. Though Coshe comparatively a wilderness a few years Burnet. ago, it is now the sest of justice for Greene, Clinton and Fayette: Nel-Vinton—a county organized in the son Rush. year 1850. It now numbers near one Adams, Pike, Scioto and Jackson: thousand inhabitants; has a new, com. H. S. Bundy. modious and beautiful Court House, nearly completed, with Sheriff's dwel. C. G. Hawley. ling and buildings; one Presbyterian church; one Methodist E. church; two good notels; seven dry-goods and vari- ley Matthew, W. P. B. gy and two wagon manufactories; three Phelps. smith shops; tour shoemaker's shops; Guernsey and Monroe: Wm. Law-four tailor shops; two cabinet shops; rence, one silver smith and jewelry store; two saddle and harness lactories; five carpenter's and house-joiner's shops; one weaver; two tanyards; stone cutters, plasterers, and other mechanics; about 125 dwellings, 150 families; schools.

&c., &c. McArthur possesses many advantages for a manufacturing town, being located in the centre of the best coal and iron ore region in the State; surrounded by iron furnaces, in fuli blast, as well as a very superior quality of soil for agricultural purposes, sufficient B, Giffin. to maintain a large manufacturing population. This, in connection with an inexhaustable abundance of coal-the material for steam--within one mile, which can be furnished at a low tigure, warrants us in the belief that McAr. G. Ricker. thur will eventually be a manufacturing town, We head this article, in part, "a chance to make money;" to prove this, denhall. we only have to state the fact, that we have no steam mill nearer than Logan, True, north 24 miles, Jackson, south 18 miles, Athens, east 27 miles, and Chillicothe, west 30 miles. This fact alone Townsend. proves that there is no town in the State that has the coal on its out-lots, Crooks. we may say, and having the same railroad facilities, that holds out such inducements to the investment of capital in a steam mill, as Mcarthur. steam mill, a foundery, and other iron manufacturies, would be among the best paying investments in our State.
